MacNair's Country Acres is a camp specializing in hunt seat riding, horsemanship and fun outdoor activities. We provide a safe, beautiful and wholesome environment where beginner riders can develop a solid foundation in riding and more advanced riders are challenged to improve their riding skills. All riders develop an understanding of horses and horsemanship. Classes are divided into small groups according to rider levels.

The school horses are excellent teachers and students are mounted on horses appropriate to their riding skills. Our beginner horses are very patient and appropriate for teaching new students.

The intermediate and advanced horses are capable of jumping courses and doing advanced flat work.

MacNair's Country Acres is one of the Triangle's oldest privately-owned riding academies and has been teaching Raleigh area residents to ride for more than 50 years.
